STANDING OF THE CLUBS. American League.

The first game went against them by a score of 6 to 3. A couple of bad decisions by Umpire Moran, Barelay's poor work in left field and Ryan's failure to stay awake gave the Phillies this game.

If the Cardinals can play the same kind of game against the Browns in the postseason series they will make the Browns hump, to win the local championship. CARDINAL TRIO DID WELL

The playing of Burke, Brain and Smoot in both games was of the sensational or-

In the first game Brain connected with one of Charles Cooper Fraser's "no hit curves" and sent it saiding to the club-house for a circuit of the bases. In the field Brain played the fastest exhibition he has put up this season. Thirteen chances were sent into his territory in the opener and he accepted them all in graceful style. Lumpire mornin, however, got In his work on Davy, and the speedy shortstop gets an error for a wide throw. In the fourth irrning of the first game Gleason pounded down a hard one towards Brain. The shortstop by a maryelous effort captured the ball, but threw a bit wide to first. Ryan, however, reached the sphere and touched the base before Gleason, but Moran called him safe. Under the scoring rules this gives Brain and error, when, in fact, the only error made was a piece of bad judgment by "Jigger" Moran.

In both games "Jimmy" Burke's aggres-In both games "Jimmy" Burke's aggressive factics were very much in evidence. At bat the "Pride of Goose Hollow" lined out four safe raps out of eight times up. Pretty good work for one afternoon. Homer Smoot's willow was very much in evidence. In the last encounter the big fellow connected with "Mill.onaire" McFetridge's curves for a homer, a triple and single.

THE FIRST GAME. In the opener P. J. Hines, a local semiprofessional, twirled for the Cardinals, and although he was returned loser his work was first-class. But for a couple of dumb plays by Jack Ryan at first and Barclay's poor fielding of Huiswitt's fly in the sev-enth Hines might have been returned a enth Hines might have been returned a winner.

Throughout the game the youngster pitched like a veteran, and although Moran gave to him the worst possible break on strikes, he took the umpire's bad work without a whimper.

Satunday the Phillies pounded McFarland for fourteen safe raps and just prior to their coming to St. Louis had been bumping Cincinnati pitchers with a vengeance, making fourteen runs in two innings off one of the "Reds" star boxmen. Hines stacked up against the same proposition and let them down with ten hits.

"NO-HIT" FRASER TWIRLED WELL. Opposed to Hines was the veteran "No-Hit" Fraser, who has but recently performed the remarkable feat of letting Chicago down without a hit. Fraser was in fine fettle, but the Cardinals managed to get on to his curves for nine safe raps.

For the first two innings neither side scored. In the third inning a base on balls, sacrifice hit, stolen base and infield-tap gave the "Phillies" a run. They made another in the fourth on errors by Brain and Hines. In the fifth neither

M. S. U. SQUAD AT WORK. Men Take Running Exercise After Football Practice at Columbia.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL Columbia, Mo., Sept. 27.-There was no game scheduled at the State University yesterday afternoon, but Coach McLean lined up the 'varsity and scrubs for a short practice game.

The 'varsity showed increased speed over previous days, and the team is certain to be one of the fastest in the West. The scrubs were not able to gain much and the 'varsity made several touchdowns. The line men on each team showed up well, as usual, and the backs showed improvement in getting the formation away fast. The team lined up as follows:

PRINCETON SHOWS IMPROVEMENT. General Tone of Supporters Is More

Hopeful. REPUBLIC SPECIAL

Princeton, N. J., Sept. 27.-One week of work has resulted in considerable improvement on the part of the Princeton football players, and the general tone among local supporters is more hopeful than it has been at this time for several years. Although the squad still consists of more than fifty men, it is already postible to pick with some certainty the men who will be chosen for the first few men who will be chosen for the first lew games

Candidates for center are Short, tackle on last year's team, and Barney, last year's center. Although Barney has a great advantage over Short in weight, he is not so quick nor so aggressive, and preference seems to favor the latter.

The guards probably will be Rafferty and Bradley and the tackles De Witt and Reed, with Coony and Baker as substitutes. Reed, with Coony and Baker as substitutes.

At the ends, Davis, Crawford and Tooker are to be relied upon. Quarter back will undoubtedly fail to Burke, with Vetterline as substitute. Hart and Foulke are veteran half backs, but the coaches are randing some difficulty for substitutes.

Kaffer, 'Varsity full back last year until lajured, is being tried for the position. Full back is causing more concern than any other position. Munn, a sophomore, and McClave, who played in the position against Yale last year, are the present candidates. Both lack speed, however, and are not up to the standard on line plunging.

MANUAL BOYS START WORK. Football Eleven Turns Out for Practice at Von Versen. Members of the Manual Training School team got down to work last Eriday, Bob LeCron of lust season's Marion-Simms eleven, serving as coach. The squad is of promise and seems to contain some good material. Frank Chase is serving as captain.

The boys will practice on the new grounds at Von Versen and Windemers place, where a small dressing room has been built for them. Work commences each day at 3 o'clock.

Office Men's Standing. SCHEDULE FOR THE WEEK. SMOOT'S SPECTACULAR FINISH LANDS HIM AMONG SLUGGERS.

By Making Safe Raps Yesterday, the Cardinals' Center Fielder Gets a Place Among .300 Hitters-Donovan Leads the Local Hitters With an Average of .317-Burke Ranks Third in Local Camp of "Sluggers"-Dunleavy Leads All the Fielders, and Is Best Local Twirler.

By his mighty swats yesterday Homer Smoot, the Cardinals' center fielder, newed his way into the exclusive .200 set of hitters. Patsy Donovan, the only other Cardinal slugger, tops the local list, with the flat-tering average of .317.

"Jimmy" Burke comes third on the local list and bats . W. which gives him a very high rank among the hitting infielders of the league.

Farrell and O'Nelli are slightly above the .250 mark, while the rest of the Cardinals are below that unprotentious figure. Not a Cardinal has found his way into the "honor roll" of individual sluggers, while Burke is the only Cardinal able to butt in" with the thirteen leading base pilferers.

DUNLEAVY LEADS LOCAL PITCHERS Dunleavy leads the local pitchers, 'Plucky" having won six of the fourteen games in which he participated as a slab worker. Brown, Murphy and McFarland are bunched very close together, with the "Miner" leading the trio. Each won has won a triffe more than a third of the games. "Mike" O'Nelll, who did so well last season for the Cardinals, has turned out to be the fans' greatest disappointment. The big southpaw has only pitched seventeer games this season and has been returned a winner in but four of them. CARDINALS LEAD IN DOUBLE.

Singularly enough, with the Cardinals having the greatest of double plays to their credit, they bring up the rear in club fielding.

In the receiving end of the game,
"Jocko" Ryan leads his colleagues, ranking sixth in the list of fielding catchers.
O'Neill gets within the first ten, his average being .349.
Brown is the best fielding pitcher in the local camp, having an average of .356.
Jack Ryan's work at first gives him
second place, while "Sunny Jim" Hackett is last.

second place, while "Sunny Jim" Hackett is last.

Farrell's work as a fielding second baseman, according to the dope, makes him the worst regular in the league, Burke's fielding is better than his average makes him look, as he goes after everything in his territory. The "dopesters" find him with an average of .995. Brain at short closes the present season with a fielding average of .914, the poorest season he has ever had since his connection with baseball.

DUNLEAVY LEADS OUTFIELDERS. Dunleavy is the best outfielder in the league, according to the figures. He tops the heap with the flattering mark of .985. Donovan's work in the field this season ranks him in the middle of the heap, his figure being .946. Smoot, although one of the best fielders in the league, finished up the .season with the poor average of .941.

Batting records for the season of 1903, complete, indicate that Hans Wagner, the mighty slugger of the Pittsburg team, gets all the honors in sight. Hans swatted them out for a percentage of .350, and, though Bill Kennedy, also of Pittsburg, is a few pegs above him in the figures, there is no comparison between their work, for Hans played 129 games and Kennedy but eighteen, and some of those only part of games.

PITTSBURG MEN LEAD. Fred Clarke, likewise of Pittsburg, ranks next to Wagner, and then comes Mike Donlin, who batted furiously during Mike Donlin, who batted furlously during the last few games, and shot up like a weed in the percentage column. Chance, Seymour and Bresnahan come next in order. During the season twenty-six men batted 300 or better, one of the number—McCreedle—belig released, thus leaving twenty-nive sluggers who were able to hold their own through the campaign. Fitsburg means in team batting and in long-ostance hitting, while the Reds finished second and Chicago third. The chief base runner of the year was Frank chance of the Chicago citib. Cance of the Calcago ciub.

Warner leads the catchers in fielding and Kennedy the pitchers. McCann tops the first basemen, while Ritchey gets the honors among the all-season second basemen. Greminger leads at third and Dahlen at short.

TRAVIS PLAYED BEAUTIFUL GOLF.

But for Two Short Putts He Would Have Made a Perfect Score.

HE IS PLEASED WITH ST. LOUIS

Champion Amateur Golfer Says That Matches Create Greater Interest Here Than in the East.

Champion Travis played almost perfect golf on Glen Echo links yesterday. But for two short putts, he would have done a 72 for the 18 holes, which would have meant perfection. He did 74 in two strokes-better than the former course record, held by S. G. Stickney. As it was, the champion played beautifully. He went out in 37 and in in the same number of strokes. His three competitors won but 2 holes in the 18 played. The day was perfect for golf-keen air and little wind. Mr. Vickery of Glen Echo partnered Mr. Travis, against Mr. Lowry of Normandie Park and Frank M. Canter of the St. Louis A. A. A. Mr. Vickery did nice work, an 87, while Mr. Lowry did an 89, which is far from his true form, Mr.

Canter did 93. Messrs, Travis and Vickery won by 19 holes in 18 played.

Their opponents did not win a hole and halved only 8. Mr. Lowry was in evidence with his tre nendous drives. He outdrove Mr. Travis very frequently. The champion did not do anything sensational. He just played his killingly straight game and made no mistakers.

mistakes.

A large crowd followed the players through, as many as 500 persons watching the game. This, Mr. Travis said, is a larger gallery than the greatest matches get in the Bast, where golf is so popular. PLEASED WITH VISIT. Mr. Travis will depart for New York

Mr. Travis will depart for New York this morning.

"I have had a delightful visit," he said as he laid away his putter yesterday afternoon. "I look forward with great pleasure to the international tournament which will be held at Glen Echo next year. I find St. Louisans most enthusiastic golfers and delightful hosts, I have been almost killed with kindness by Colonel McGrew and his fellow-golfers of St. Louis."
